

House Public Speaking Competition, kindly adjudicated by Mrs Liz Mackintosh, Mrs Di Stokoe and Mrs Judy Pott, was held recently.

The Grade 4 participants, being 'novices', tried out "Demo Speeches". They spoke confidently and kept the audience captivated. Top of the grade was James Macgregor with Tony Ferreira coming second with his demo on his electric guitar. He also won the "Most Potential" award. The Grade Five top speaker was Ozayr Karodia whose passion for the conservation of the wild dog came across in his winning speech. Andreas Kuhn was awarded "The Most Interesting Speech" award for his speech about the invention of the potato chips.

The Grade 6 speakers had to use quotations, relating to their lives, in their speeches. Top speaker was Caitlyn Cordeiro who spoke about making the most of life. In the Grade 7 class the standard was adjudged extremely high. The prestigious "Best Speech Overall" went to Tsavo Raath for his speech about addictions. Thembi Nyathi and Cari Malherbe were awarded "Best Diction" and "Most Entertaining" respectively.

The final points position was as follows:

Fuller :	629 points
Webb :	647 points
Ogilvie :	648 points

Congratulations to all of the speakers who were all winners in their own right as they were already the winners within their respective grades. The self confidence and talent were highly commendable.
